

TIME SET FOR VOTE ON TARIFF

Senate Reaches Agreement To Make Final Test Friday Afternoon.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 11.—The tariff bill will be put to its ultimate test in the senate, the long awaited final vote, at 2 o'clock on Friday.

If it is approved, and there are many who predict a margin of one or two votes will settle the question, it will be brought up in the house on Saturday and a final roll call taken there.

Thus, allowing for the time taken by necessary congressional formalities after passage, the measure will be debated in the senate, is expected to reach President Hoover some time on Monday.

Agreement Reached.
After considerable argument, a unanimous consent agreement was reached in the senate late yesterday during the Friday voting hour. An earlier time was proposed by a half dozen members who said they had engrossed which would prevent their attendance today or tomorrow. Senator LaFollette, Republican of Wisconsin, the opponent of the measure, said it was appropriate the vote should come on Friday the thirteenth.

A preliminary test will come just before the roll call in a vote on a motion by Senator Blaine, Republican of Wisconsin, to send the bill again to conference. In making this motion, he contended, the conferees had disregarded all scientific bases in arriving at the duty on cheese.

Advocates Confident.

Republican leaders maintained their confidence today that the bill will be passed, however small the margin. Meanwhile, Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, prepared to deliver an address setting forth his views on the measure and announcing whether he will vote for or against it. The attitude of Senator Grundy, also of Pennsylvania, too is unknown, and he intimated he may vote against the bill. Many who have been counting prospective ballots predict that should one or both of the Pennsylvanians cast a negative vote the bill will be defeated.

MUST RETURN BREW SUPPLIES

Listing of Articles in Warrents Required, Judge Rules in Akron Case.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—Federal agents making seizures under the supreme court's recent ruling outlawing the sale of supplies for manufacture of liquor must specifically note such supplies in the search warrant, according to a ruling of Federal Judge Samuel H. West in ordering the return of 300,000 tons of corn sugar to Leo Lauer of Akron.

Judge West ordered the return of the sugar, together with seven automobiles, marsh plums, charcoal, yeast and several sacks of coals on the ground that the warrants used in the raid on Lauer's warehouse May 13 were insufficient.

The supplies previously bid been ordered returned by U. S. State Commissioner Marlin J. McNamee, but Deputy Prohibition Administrator John E. Wright refused to act without authorization from one of the federal judges.

Judge West, however, directed that 3,000 empty five-gallon cans be held by Wright because the search warrant specifically named the cans. In this he overruled McNamee, holding that the commissioner was only an agent and that the court has the final right to dispose of seized material.

Judge West and 12 of his employees are charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Fox of Kenton whose automobile was damaged in a collision with the Marion car.

Jurors for the trial will be chosen from a list of 200 names drawn this morning from the jury wheel at the courthouse by Clerk of Court Stevens and Sheriff Ansley.

LAST NIGHT at the THEATERS.

Laughs Aplenty in "Caught Short"

After seeing the latest production at the Palace theater, one can almost believe that when funnier shows are produced Polly Moran and Marie Dressler will have led parts in them. "Caught Short," an inimitable farce written by Eddie Cantor is directed at those individuals who played the Wall Street stock market, first to gain a giddy fortune and then see it swallowed up in a panic.

Polly Moran and Marie Dressler, the rival though friendly, boarding house keepers provide just about 100 per cent of the laughs in the show. There is nothing else in the show except laughs so the credit all goes to the Dressler-Moran combination of mirth provokers.

There is little plot of any depth to the production. Natural differences between the two boarding house proprietors concerning the manner of treating boarders flare up constantly, keeping the Smiths and the Jones' in constant bickering.

The ease with which Mrs. Smith crashed through to some easy winnings on the stock market causes considerable consternation to Mr. Jones but until late in the show she returns to invest her life savings of $3,500 in stocks and bonds. She finally falls and shortly after her savings go the way of all the cash which paid for stocks and bonds before the crash.

The news of the crash breaks up a proposed wedding of the son of Mrs. Smith and a well-known actress but paves the way for the resulting and ultimate marriage of the Smith son and the pretty "daughter" of Mrs. Jones.

Anita Page furnishes the female half of the romance in the play and that is all that is necessary. Most people would go to see her if no one else was in the picture.

The whole program at the Palace is a knockout. Spenser is fine at the console and there is a good musical feature. If you're feeling bad and don't want to get over it, don't go to the Palace. If you feel like reaching for the Center street playground.

The World Altitude Record.

Once more the United States holds the altitude records of the world for all types of altitudes the instruments carried by the naval officer Lieutenant Apollo Soucek in his alpine flight for altitude Wednesday of last week showing new record of 43,160 feet the highest altitude ever attained by man.
The new record exceeds the previous world airplane record of Duesseldorf of Germany, 13,372 feet and the unofficial balloon record of Captain Hawthorne C. Gray, army air pilot of 12,710 feet.

It is a singular circumstance that Soucek was so sure that he had not established a new world record on his first attempt of last week that he made another the day following which failed owing to weather conditions in part and partly because of a slight injury of a working part of his machine.

Soucek's record breaking flight of last week covered two hours and seven minutes something over twenty minutes having been spent by him at the maximum altitude achieved while he was struggling in the thin and intensely cold air to attain a few feet more of altitude. Some conception of the cost may be induced from the fact that his recording thermometer showed a temperature of eighty nine degrees below zero Fahrenheit, probably the lowest natural temperature ever endured by a man, being even if the phone of the future is so developed as to have the power to climb markedly higher than the new record there is grave question if the altitude of something over eight miles attained by Soucek will ever be much exceeded owing to the killing cold the visitor would be forced to endure.

Reference herein has been made to the Lieutenants record of last week to distinguish it from another world record made by him a year ago the 1st of this month when in a seaplane he reached a height of 33,500 feet. Thus it is that this man after today holds the world altitude records for seaplanes and for airplanes and the world open altitude record for any craft of air machines.

Crime and Corruption.

In the failure of the developer it is that it was another McLaughlin—a possibility of which there has not been even so much as a hint thus far—the murder of the Chicago Tribune, or, under Alfred L. Light should prove the spark to melt the decent element of Chicago's citizenry to the slipping out of the city's king torso and a return and the corrupt politicians who have been their chief allies.

McLaughlin It may be recalled, was the state's attorney assistant whose body was ridden with machine gun bullets into one street in one of the city's suburbs. Wrath flamed high in the city until it was developed that McLaughlin's moronic companions of the night were gangsters two of whom were killed with him.

Thus up to this latest killing attributed to gangland with the possible exception of that of McLaughlin the members of Chicago's criminal world have preyed on each other.
The killing of Light however, is taken as a direct affront to law and government, as gangland's challenge to the authority of the city and county is a reprisal for the recent ridicule made on it for Light was the intimate friend of Police Commissioner Russell Chief of Detectives Sergeant State Attorney Swainson and his chief investigator, Patrick Roche.

Newspaper readers are by this time familiar with the story of the killing but possibly some of them may not have read between the lines of the following three paragraphs in the Tribune's story of it.

An other arrested for questioning was John J.
Lois McLaughlin, former member of the Legislature, who is said by the police and investigator Roche to have briefly engaged in gangland enterprise. McLaughlin according to it has lately sought to open a number of gambling places and it is thought through a difficult influence to gain protection from police interference.

When he sought the state's attorney's permit in McLaughlin was warned against opening the places as was still but persistent in the plan and finally opened three of them according to Roche. Police from Commissioner Russell also called one of the places and were informed that State Attorney Swanson has given it the OK to proceed.

Light declared in his discussion with his friend McLaughlin and that Light had then gone to Swanson and Roche, asking them to explain. Light told that McLaughlin had been given privileges. Light later met McLaughlin and informed him that he could not operate his gambling places but the police and the state attorney's men will certainly tell him. McLaughlin according to Roche exhibited anger toward Light seeming inclined to flame him in the situation.

While the foregoing three paragraphs cast no direct reflection on any of the law-enforcement agents named therein they do show that one as well versed in the city's criminal world as its ways as this man Mc-Laughlin is indicated to be felt that it was the course of wisdom to seek the protection of the authorities for his proposed unlawful enterprises and there is plain recognition of political influence to gain protection from police interference.

And here we have the explanation of the shame in which the second city of the land exists today. No matter what the present situation may be in regard to collusion between crime and politics at present we have no recognition of such collusion in the past and the power for evil exercised by politicians over the police and other law enforcement agents.

Gangsters and gamblers run rump and other criminals could no more exercise the power they have gained the ascendancy they have in Chicago without political and official collusion, than they could in any other American city big or small. Organized crime will invariably be found to thrive only as a result of political and official corruption and this is true whether reference is made to the great population centers of the country or to cities of our own size.

A young Hoosier has sued a young Ohio boy residing in Elkhart for $20,000 damages for breach of promise. Of course he must be a little peevish because the girl married the other fellow without his knowledge but just as likely as not a jury looking at the thing as a business proposition may decide that he is a winner by what he now considers a raw deal.

Some members of the senate expect President Hoover to tell congress that the tax decrees it has added will cause repeal of the income tax. Why not? Congress certitainty didn't imagine that the funds with which to meet the added tax burdens it imposed could be plucked off trees.

On the market but fifteen months the sales of All Quiet on the Western Front have established a new high mark having gone above a million. Of course Remarque's work has this advantage over the great majority of the offerings of recent years. It has part and partly because of a slight increase of a working part of his machine.

Advocating the planting of trees along all the city boulevards a Chicago paper says A great tree even at the cost of special care and treatment to maintain its life in city soil is worth more than most other memories. It is nature's monument. No question of that. And up in Chicago a tree would prove mighty handy as a breastwork for peaceful but bidding citizens when the garrison in garrison starts shooting.

Such is human nature that the cutting out of the speech of Senator Reed just as he started to launch over the air his attack on Radio Corporation of America may prove more effective in making converts to his side than it is a monopoly than his speech possibly could have been.

Following a controversy which has extended over a period of six years the United States and France have reached an agreement tending to free American airmen with substantive interests in France from double taxation. If the forty-eight states of the Union will get together in the same way citizen ownership property or having interest in two or more of them might be able to do without having his estate taken up in estate taxes.

IT WILL TAKE A HIGHER WALL TO KEEP HIM OUT.

HIGHLIGHTS

BY ROYAL S. COLEMAN AND M.D.
Anthony Hope Hawkins showed what possibly might be done through the introduction of new character blood ability personally and immuno-furo assays of a pettily bunglow. But in these latter days pettily bunglow has sort of gone out of fashion. While the sponsor and temporary comrade of Hawkins became a very kindly kind and I credit to his kindly and wanted like Carol of luminous to come anything other than a t's entertainment of that class of royalty which has been mentioned above. In the first place by Manuel of Peter and some dozens of similar brought in the first of living generations.

What a big man can do with a little kingdom has been demonstrated in vivid relief by Al II Belgium's best premier of his class in Europe.
The new Romanian ruler takes possession of his 110,000 square miles of territory and its population of less than that of New York City. Just what would the extent of Carol's realm amount to in our busy state of Texas with its more than 65,000 square miles? Quite a number of Carol's states could be cased out of Sam Houston's Lone Star Republic whose just in background makes that of Romania look rather pale and anaemic by comparison.

Carroll Silva in my lighter file of literature attracted the attention of the reading public of the world, while Queen Maria did likewise as an expert in small political intrigues and examples of social royal practice and precedent. Perhaps the fact that these ladies personages of even a semi-demigod may have had something to do with it understood by all the world's press corps.

But the foregoings three paragraphs are not the whole of the story. The child of the world has a birthright of his own in the form of a right to be born in the world.
This early life training will tell us last to results in the child's mental and spiritual life. It will stand him in good stead throughout all the activities of life.

Child psychology has taught us many things.
The child's mind and spiritual development are based on health—this is all matters left to understand by him that they ever were before.

Young children in every country are in training slowly but surely. Every one must be making the world better. The water supply and public housing conditions of villages of the streets and municipalities, playgrounds, parks, systems of industrial evolution, hospital facilities, wages of the local workers, availability of medical and nursing care—all these must be made safe and sure. They must be looked after from the time of the children to the community.

The quality of life using must be improved by what happens to the child and child.

The lowered death rate in almost every city is an indication of improvement at the top.

What these are largely if not wholly the result of public attitude toward humanity. We will be surely growing better and each one must be in making this a reality.

WORLD'S FASTEST FREEZING!

a Test of

Real Significance

to buyers of Electric Refrigeration

THERE are many freak tests—mostly meaningless—to which you can subject an electric refrigerator.

But the final and conclusive test is "What will an electric refrigerator do for me in my home?"

Kelvinator gave the answer in a recent nation-wide test embracing every state in the Union—under all conditions of climate and water supply.

Kelvinator's Super-Fast Freezing produced ice cubes in the amazing average freezing time of 80 minutes.

This is the fastest freezing time on record—from one-third to one-half the usual period.

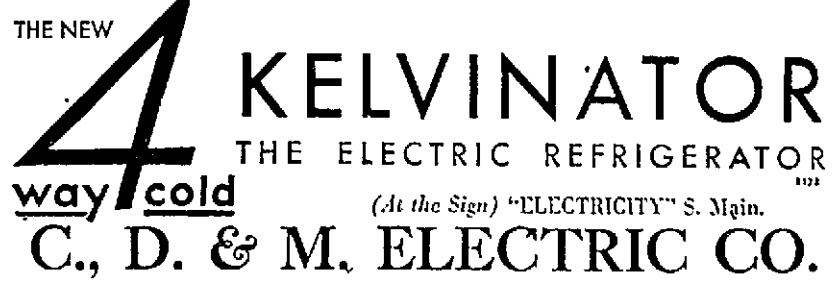

Why You Should Demand
Super-Fast Freezing

Never a shortage of ice on the hottest day or longest evening—that is what Kelvinator's automatic super-fast freezing brings you.

Only Kelvinator has the famous Iso-Thermic Tubes, which act as a cold plate under a special fast-freezing compartment, freezing ice and desserts automatically. And in Kelvinator de luxe models you get more ice, twice for size, than in any other electric refrigerator.

Own a Kelvinator On Easy Terms
You can enjoy Kelvinator's many exclusive benefits without waiting a day longer. All Kelvinators may be purchased on easy terms through Kelvinator's ReDisCo monthly budget plan.

When you know that Kelvinator has shown the greatest percentage of gain in sales this year of any electric refrigerator, you will do well to investigate the reasons for the public preference. See the complete new line at our showrooms today.

TRAGEDY ENDS RACE

Cleveland boy drowned in attempt to elude youths.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, Oh., June 11.—A race to avoid the loss of a dollar bill borrowed to purchase the family separator ended in the death of seven-year-old Walter Williams, who drowned in an East Side pool in an abandoned dump late yesterday.

Mrs. Anderson Williams, the boy's mother, said her family was penniless because her husband was out of work and that she sent Walter and his brother, Ivy, 11, to borrow a dollar from a neighbor. Two youths tried to snatch the dollar on the way home and chased Walter to the pool, where they pushed him in, Ivy told police.

Flames Sweep Old Railway Structure at Toledo.

By The Associated Press
TOLEDO, Oh., June 11.—A station for a new union station was increased today with the gutting of the preexisting 61-year-old structure by flames of undetermined origin last night.

The blaze destroyed the ticket office, waiting room and dispatches' office on the second and third floors in the tower over the main entrance. At least $75,000 and $100,000.

About 290 persons fled quietly out of the waiting room as the smoke began pouring in, many of them neglecting to take their baggage from the check room in the belief that the fire was unimportant.

More Pianos Used Today Than Any Other Musical Instrument

It is not only that the Piano is a necessity in ninety-nine out of a hundred cases when a musical program of any sort is given, but the Piano is the most popular choice of all musical instruments.

There are in America alone today approximately a half million young men and women studying to play the piano. That number steadily increases each year. Of all musical instruments the Piano is the real home instrument.

Calvary and Epworth No. 1, co-leaders in the first Sunday school loop, both copped off victories in yesterday's games to keep in a tie for first place with four games won and none lost. Lutherans were swamped by Calvary 10 to 0 by virtue of a sixth inning rally when seven runs came in, while John Clark's outfit took a loosely played game from St. Mary's, 5 to 3. Epworth Seniors had to go 10 innings to nose out their brother Juniors by a 1 to 0 count.

Sloppy fielding behind a five-hit performance by Gene Gunder allowed the Gamblerless Epworth team to defeat the Irish. Zie Snyder twirled a three hit game for the winners which would have been and was good enough to take the long end of the score. The Methodists staged their winning rally in the fifth when four runs crossed the plate on three hits. Clark has a tilt with the tall end Baptist scheduled for tomorrow night and should win easily. However, the crucial game of the season will be played next Tuesday evening when the Clarkmen tackle Calvary at Lincoln park. All the hopes for a Methodist victory are based on the return of Bob Gamble to hurling duty.

Big Rally Wins

Gruber had things pretty tough with the Lutherans for the first five frames yesterday and was leading only 2 to 0 when the fifth inning got under way. However, when the smoke of uprising had cleared away seven Calvary players had crossed the plate and the ball game was "in." The winners collected their seven runs in this inning on a grand total of two hits, Lutherans errors contributing the other necessary ingredients. Nelmyer and W. Bildau featured with two long home runs in the first inning.

Schmeling-Sharkey Battle Called Most Significant Since Tunney's Time.

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 11.—In the most interesting and most excitingly ballyhooedistic affair since the late Tex Rickard pulled the strings of the heavyweight punch and fury show, Jack Sharkey will fight Max Schmeling tomorrow night, 15 rounds or less at the Yankee stadium for the heavyweight championship of the world.

It is by all odds the most significant heavyweight bout since Gene Tunney, but whether the winner will be recognized outside of Germany, Lithuania and the United States remains to be seen.

With any kind of an even break from old man weather, a crowd of 75,000 fans probably will pay in excess of $700,000 to see the big show.

This is a far cry from the figures at tending the last of the outstanding ticket extras, maxes on Chicago's take front in 1927, but it excels anything on the books of the heavyweight business for the past three years.

Today, the two main questions up for debate among the railheads are:

First, can Schmeling carry the heights that three previous for each challenger, Europe Carpenter

SMALL GOLF LINKS COMPETITION GROWS

Courses No. 2 and No. 3 Now in Process of Construction Here.

Competition in the miniature golf course trade of Marion grew by leaps and bounds in the past three days when courses No. 2 and 3 were put under construction. No. 2 is one of the patented Tom Thumb courses, and is being built by Columbus interests. E. R. Anderson is to manage the course and William A. Stalter is in charge of construction. This course is located on Mt. Vernon avenue.

Course No. 3 gives promise of being the longest and most difficult of all three. This is being built on the Burr Ridge lot across from the post office by F. L. Alexander. Present plans, which as yet are not definite, call for an 18-hole layout that will be one-sixth of a mile in length. All of the greens will be over 20 feet long and the par will probably be in the high 50's. No opening date has been set for this course but will not be before two weeks.

The Tom Thumb course is scheduled to open either Friday or Saturday this week. Opening night will be marked by a free round of 18 holes for everybody at the expense of the management. The Tom Thumb courses are alike. In all towns with special emphasis being laid on the decoration of the grounds. The greens will be made of cotton-wood, and limestone walkways will run around the entire course.

The first of the miniature courses built in the city on Belmontfontaine avenue has been purchased by F. L. Alexander. When the course across from the post office is completed Alexander will have complete charge of both layouts.
